“Called as Partners in Christ’s Service”

Jacoba’s jottings... Church and community partnership has been on my mind this summer. Father Steve Bryce, along with pastors from the ELCA, the United Methodist Church and the UCC worked together to put together a service of worship for the House of Mercy celebration. While we were doing that, another group was putting together the meal under Bonnie Weyer’s direction, others were fund raising and others were doing decorations, parking, layout of the building at the Connie and Allan Walter family farm. Businesses, Clark County churches, WEAU, local newspapers, and lots of people worked together to make “Sowing Seeds of Mercy, Hope for the Homeless” Event a success.

Working with partners is among the things we have talked about in our Weird Church: Welcome to the Twenty-first Century book study. Already we are partners with Feed My People, Cummins, Listeman Foundation, Neillsville Public Schools and many donors from UCC and community individuals and groups to make the Back-Pack ministry possible. Sending food home with school children every other weekend would not happen without our partners.

Another thing that came up in our discussions was having neighborhood block parties. Many of us don’t know our neighbors. We are also unaware of the needs of our neighbors, neighborhoods and community. Is there a neighbor who needs someone to notice if a light goes on or off in the living room, making sure that that person is still doing ok? Is there a safety concern in the neighborhood? Are there common concerns- speeding down the street, wondering if a neighbor is involved in drugs? Does someone need yard work done? Do other neighbors know who can be hired in the area?

The connection between my thoughts in this issue of Jottings, is are there areas where UCC can be a partner in our community? Block parties, conversations with our neighbors can make us aware of the needs and gifts of our community and then we can begin to find partners to respond to what our neighbors need.

The question of how to reach out to share God’s love with our neighbors can only be answered by knowing the needs and resources of our community. Are you willing to host a block party – to get to know your neighbors and ask what needs they notice in our community? If the church is to continue responding to the needs of this community –and UCC with the help of many partners does that well, we need to know what the needs are and what we can do together to make a difference. Fifty-eight families have asked for help since November of 2016 because they are homeless in Clark County. Who knew? To what other needs does UCC with partners have the ability to respond? Block parties are one way to learn those needs and the willingness of our neighbors to work together. Our Book Study Conversation suggested the Clark County Health Department’s survey done in 2014 as another resource.

Jesus sends his disciples out to do mission – heal the sick, raise the dead, throw out demons; his expectation is that his disciples will feed the hungry, give drink to the thirsty, welcome the stranger, clothe the naked, and visit the sick and imprisoned. We need to listen for the Holy Spirit’s guidance as to the ministries we are called to do and then find our partners so we can follow Jesus’ ways.

We are keeping busy even in the summer... The Music Committee has put out flyers and ads seeking a new choir director. If anyone knows someone or suggestions ... please speak up. The Funeral Dinner Steering Committee has also been working hard. Emile Miller is taking the lead and doing a great job helping us figure out how to move forward. Please read her article and see how you can support this important ministry.

Plans are progressing to change Audrey and my email addresses. Watch for those changes and update your contacts. Technology changes often take more time than expected.

Again, we participated in VBS with Calvary. Attending from UCC were Dottie, Clayton, and Quinn joined by Lexi one day. I thought the program was good. The twenty to thirty kids each day really enjoyed themselves. The young leaders from Luther Camp had lots of energy. There were no videos or characters or background scenes. The kids learned camp songs and heard Bible Stories. There were skits including

Disney movie skits acted out by the leaders. There was a lot of running! Inside and outside! Tag and one game where we walked round and round Calvary's building hoping not to be caught moving by the leaders. The kids loved it. The time from 1-5pm just did not work for our families. The Christian Ed Board is already trying to figure out what would work for our families with young children.

The House of Mercy –Sowing Seeds of Mercy Event took a bit of my time. I was even interviewed on TV by Judy Clark (WEAU) here is the link if you want to see it.

Bonnie Weyer did a tremendous amount of work. A year ago, when we met together in our “SHiFT” meetings we said we wanted to be involved in the homeless shelter opening up in Loyal.

Bonnie made that happen. As part of our participation Bonnie with Carla Marty's help designed and sewed a banner to represent UCC. Where shall we hang it?

Bonnie also took pictures... one is of my Clark County UCC colleagues with our Associate Conference Minister, Rev. Rob MacDougall. Rev. Asafa is pastor at Greenwood and Owen and Rev. Doris Ruben is pastor at Dorchester and Stratford. Pastor Terry Hansen, not pictured, is the pastor of our Colby church.

Confirmation Classes

I am aware of possibly eight students in Confirmation Class this year. I would like to meet with the students and their parents on Wednesday August 23 at 7:30 pm.

Continuing Education

I am attending Weird Church Camp in Estes Park Colorado August 29-September 1. I will be meeting with the authors of the book, Weird Church and clergy from around the country to talk about church, ministry and mission in the coming decades. I decided to drive to Estes Park and on the way, I am going to stay at a retreat center Pine Ridge Indian Reservation. I am interested in learning more about Native Americans; my particular interest has to do with the effect of the boarding schools, such as the one we had in Neillsville the lives of Native Americans today. As with many things, we would not do today what was acceptable years ago. I want to learn more.

August Newsletter 2017

Hi Everyone,

Here we are heading right into August next week. Wow, has this summer gone fast. It's time to begin thinking about our fall programs. But first we do still have August to look forward to. It seems like all the Vradenburg's are doing is mowing lawn. I believe this has been the wettest summer we have had in many years and does the grass ever grow fast because of it! July was pretty busy here at our church. VBS took place at Calvary Lutheran, July 10-July 13 this year. Our number of kids attending was down. I think mostly it was due to the time it was held this year. 1:00-5:00 p.m. A lot of our moms work and live out of town, making it a lot harder to get their kids here. I think the later time works better for our kids? We had Gordon Vine's funeral this month, on Saturday, July 15 and the fundraiser for the House of Mercy was held on Saturday, July 22 with great success due to the hard work of Bonnie Weyer and her co-workers. The big thing for me in August is the Clark County Fair. I have been working in the Dairy Bar for many years there and this year Arlene Stark and I will again be there. Hope you stop by and see us. Our Church service will be held on Sunday, August 13. We will again share with Calvary Lutheran. Pastor Chad and Pastor Jacoba will lead the service. This service will begin at 9:00 a.m. Our board meetings will begin August 15. 5:30 p.m. Trustees; 6:30-7:30 p.m. Deacons & Deaconesses; Church Council at 7:30 p.m. This is a good sign that summer is ending when the board meetings begin. Pastor Jacoba will be Continuing Education time beginning on August 24. She will return on September 2.

See you in church! – Audrey
